2013 HOWELL MOUNTAIN CABERNET SAUVIGNON

This single-vineyard estate-grown Cabernet Sauvignon is born in the vineyard blocks that surround the Robert Foley Vineyards winery facility at 2000 feet elevation on Howell Mountain.

This manly Cabernet displays very dark, almost opaque color. Big black cherry and blackberry aromas and flavors fit into a classic Cabernet structure. This mouthful of wine combines ample gently gripping tannin with a long finish, massive yet elegant. This mountain Cabernet Sauvignon will continue to bottle age gracefully for many years to come.

Hector Lopez's golden touch in our estate vineyard has produced the best fruit I have ever worked with. This is my favorite wine, bar none. Production of the Howell Mountain Cabernet is very limited but worth the effort to take the ride! Another timeless wine, we'll be enjoying this for many years to come. Now, with more mature fruit beginning produced from our newest vineyard on the property, the Howell Mountain Cabernet will no longer be in such short supply.
